Building tomorrow's luxury

May 2023

“Our success is only worthwhile if it is also virtuous . Success can only last if it is fair . And if it benefits everyone, then it will be even greater. What’s the point of inspiring dreams with magnificent products if they don’t meet the highest social and environmental standards ?

We apply those standards for the benefit of our employees and our customers of course, for our stakeholders as well, but above all for our future .”

Bernard Arnault

The world's leading luxury group

A family-run group, LVMH is committed to the long-term development of its Maisons, ambassadors of a distinctively refined art de vivre. Each of them creates products that embody a unique savoir-faire, a carefully preserved heritage and a grounding in modernity.

Main programs & initiatives

Regenerating ecosystems

Forging further ahead to reduce our footprint

LVMH took further actions to preserve biodiversity by continuing the roll out of regenerative agriculture projects: in Turkey for cotton, in Uruguay and in Australia for merino wool, in South Africa for mohair, in France for all Moët Hennessy's vineyards as well as for some iconic ingredients of perfumes.

LVMH joined One Planet Business for Biodiversity focused on scaling up regenerative agriculture.

Strengthening links with nature

Forest destination

Since it was founded, over 250 years ago, Hennessy has had deep ties with forests: during the crucial aging stage, it is the interaction between the casks' oak wood and the eaux-de-vie that creates cognac. The Maison officially launched its "Forest Destination" program. The initiative aims to regenerate 50,000 hectares of forest worldwide by 2030.

The need to set impact metrics

LVMH x TNFD Forum

LVMH takes part in the international collective effort to standardize impact metrics. The Group was named as an active member of the Taskforce on Nature-related Financial Disclosure (TNFD). Its mission is to better map positive and negative actions relating to biodiversity.

Committing now to build a responsible future

Leaving beauty as a legacy

Parfums Christian Dior presented its Beauty as a Legacy 2030 strategy: an action plan to improve the impact of its activities on biodiversity and local communities by 2030. The Maison's initiatives include notably aiming to have 100% of its gardens and partner gardens operated using organic or regenerative farming practices by 2030.

The Group's projects for biodiversity

Fostering circular design

LIFE 360 objectives

New circular services : repairs, upcycling, etc. (2023)

Packaging : zero plastic from virgin fossil oil (2026)

100 % of the Group's new products will result from eco-design (2030)

2022 results

9 % reduction (7,942t vs 8,632t in 2021) in the amount of virgin fossil-based plastic used in customer packaging

Main programs & initiatives

Christian Dior Couture x Parley for the Oceans

Beachwear Capsule

A material created from upcycled marine plastic debris and fishing gear engineered into high-performance materials. Dior's artisans refined the recycled fibers into high-quality fabrics, such as jacquard.

LV Trainer

Made from responsible recycled materials

Now made with 90% recycled and biobased materials: polyurethane, polyester, cotton, corn-based biodegradable plastics and even plastic waste for the laces.

Nona Source, circularity accelerator

Nona Source, the first online resale platform for upcycling exceptional textile materials of the Group's Fashion Maisons

Le Bon Marché Rive Gauche and Balthazar have developed capsule collections from upcycled textile of Nona Source.

The Watchmaker Zenith unveiled an upcycling project with Nona Source to transform sleeping textile stocks into watch bracelets.

Aqua Allegoria reinvented

The flagship collection of Guerlain was given a complete overhaul

Contains 90 % to 95 % natural ingredients and a recyclable screw-top bottle from 15% post-consumer recycled glass. Refilling cuts carbon emissions by 60%, glass by 24% and plastics by 44%.

Committing to the pursuit of excellence for traceability (1/2)

LIFE 360 objectives

All strategic supply chains to have a dedicated traceability system (2026)

All of our strategic supply chains will integrate dedicated traceability systems (2030)

2022 results

The source of materials was known for:
 86 % of leather (vs 76 % in 2021)
 89 % exotic leather (vs 90 % in 2021)
 89 % of furs (vs 87 % in 2021)

 64 % of wool (62 % in 2021)

Further information can be found in the 2022 Universal Registration Document – from pages 92 to 94.

Main programs & initiatives

« Upstream Traceability » Task Force

To raise awareness of the most rigorous traceability methodologies

More than 25 Maisons of the Group continued its drive to raise awareness across its supply chains.

A comprehensive review of existing standards was completed, with a special focus on gold. The task force identified the most effective traceability systems, and some of these have now gone live after being trialed in the most complex supply chains such as cotton.

Aura Blockchain Consortium

Consortium x Sarine

In 2022, Aura Blockchain consortium - launched in 2021 by LVMH, Prada Group and Cartier - announced a partnership with Sarine (a diamond authentication specialist) to provide full supply chain traceability for diamonds.

Rolling out a « Chain of Custody » approach

Sourcemap Pilote Project

After a successful pilot project of Sourcemap in 2022, involving 12 Maisons and nearly 450 suppliers, the Group aims to extend the use of the tool in 2023 to cover several strategic materials.

Tiffany & Co, full traceability for rough diamonds

An approach in line with its DNA of « engagement rings specialist »

In 2021, Tiffany & Co introduced full traceability for all rough diamonds used in its pieces all the way back to the mine of origin. They come mainly from Botswana, Canada, Namibia and South Africa. All of the gold, silver and platinum used is also traceable to the mine or the recycler. In addition, the Maison purchased its Fairmined-certified gold from mines in Peru.

Committing to the pursuit of excellence for transparency (2/2)

2022 results

Certifications Watches & Jewelry
99.5 % of diamonds (vs 99.9 % in 2021)

Main programs & initiatives

LORO PIANA, launching digital certification

Loro Piana x Aura Blockchain

Loro Piana has issued a digital certificate elaborated with Aura Blockchain Consortium guaranteeing transparency and traceability for its products: from the animal husbandry to the store. To begin with, the certificate will apply to products made of The Gift of Kings® wool.

Environmental information

LVMH x Fairly Made

LVMH has taken part in French and European methodological work on environmental labelling.

LVMH already collaborates with Fairly Made for the Fashion and Leather Goods' environmental labelling of its Maisons. Patou uses this traceability/transparency solution for 55 references and targets 100 % by the end of 2023.

FENDI, continuous progress

Fashion Transparency Index

This index evaluates performance with regard to transparency, environmental and societal policies together with impacts in their own operations and in their supply chains.

For the fourth year in a row, Fendi was still one of the highest-ranking companies with a score of 53/100 (+10 pts vs 2021).

Louis Vuitton, innovating for traceability

Digital certificate for diamonds

For the collection LV Diamonds, Louis Vuitton presented the first of the very first digital certificate of diamonds secured and available to the end customer.

15 % reduction of Scope 3 GHG emissions (baseline 2019)

Main programs & initiatives

Raising the bar to show the way forward

LVMH x new standards

The Group takes into account the evolution of international protocols notably the one related to the measure of emissions linked to the storage activities and is working towards adopting two new frameworks, the SBTi FLAG Guidance and the GHG « Land Sector and Removal Guidance »

Tiffany x Net Zero pathway by SBTi

Tiffany's trajectory was approved by SBTi with a target and roadmap combined related to a sourcing of recycled materials for all of its precious metals and 100 % of renewable energies by 2030.

Heeding the French government's call for nationwide action

Energy efficiency plan

LVMH adopted an energy efficiency plan featuring three flagship measures concerning lighting in stores and administrative offices, ambient temperatures at workshops, administrative and retail sites, and energy-saving measures to be adopted by all employees.

Sephora managed to reduce its energy consumption by 19.6 % between October and December 2022.

Actively engaging with all stakeholders

LVMH x Hang Lung Properties

LVMH announced the launch of a pioneering partnership with Hang Lung Properties, a leading owner of more than hundred shopping malls in China, with an objective to shrink the stores' environmental footprint through coordinated action by the tenant and owner.

Highest priority, reducing Scope 3

The sourcing/packaging issue: Veuve Clicquot x Canopy

The use of recycling materials leads to a significant reduction of carbon emissions. Veuve Clicquot collaborated with Canopy to develop a new packaging combining hem and recycled paper.

Main programs & initiatives

Further training to fight prejudice

LVMH launches an online training course

The Group launches an online training course entitled « Managing prejudice and promoting inclusion at LVMH » for all teams - including production, sales and marketing - and covering all staff members right up to executive level.

Moving toward gender parity with EllesVMH

Quantifiable targets

The aim of the EllesVMH's program is to achieve gender equality in key roles and equal pay at the worldwide level by 2025. In 2022, 45 % of LVMH's key roles were held by women up from 23 % in 2007 and 18 of its Maison Presidents and Division CEOs were women.

Overcoming prejudices related to autism

Guerlain x Vivre et Travailler Autrement

Guerlain's La Ruche production site is working with nonprofit Vivre et Travailler Autrement (VETA) to support staff members and make adjustments to their workstations. The Guerlain site now employs four autistic people and aims to employ six young adults with severe autism by 2025.

Impactful initiatives with the Inclusion Index

LVMH launched the Inclusion Index in 2018 in order to spotlight the D&I initiatives within the Group. While the Inclusion Index has historically focused on gender equality and LGBT+inclusion, in 2022 it expanded to cover all dimensions of D&I.

Beyond Women's Career, a mentoring program by LVMH Iberia, won the 2022 Inclusion Index award in the Gender Equity category.

Taking action to ensure the well-being of our employees

2025 objective

Fullfill the five commitments of the new Health & Safety Charter

2022 results

81 % (+13 % vs 2021) of employees are covered by a formal health and safety approach within their Maison

89 % (-6 % vs 2021) of employees work in a Maison whose Management Committee periodically reviews its health and safety approach

87 % (+4 % vs 2021) of employees work in a Maison whose Management Committee analyzes health and safety annually

33 % (+57 % vs 2021) of employees have received training in risk prevention and first aid

100 % of Maisons (unchanged) celebrate health, safety and well-being at work once a year

Main programs & initiatives

Promoting physical and mental health

The mental health of employees is a central concern at LVMH North America

LVMH North America which uses specific tools to foster a culture that is inclusive and attentive to well-being. These include the Mental Health First Aid certification program to enable employees to identify and provide an initial response to any mental health issues that their colleagues might experience.

Listening to employees

Parfums Christian Dior x Your Well-Being Matters

In Spain, PCD looks at staff members' perceptions and expectations in nine areas. In 2022, employees' opinions were also sought on a further four topics such as emotional well-being including sources of stress at work. Thanks to this project, PCD and LVMH Beauty Iberia have received « Health organization » certification from AENOR

Fostering a zero-accident culture

Louis Vuitton's focus health & safety approach

Louis Vuitton aims to achieve zero accidents for all of its production teams. The approach is aligned with the LVMH Charter and is based on observing, analyzing and dealing with risks. It is implemented through action, training and vigilance among all teams.

Ongoing support with LVMH Heart Fund

LVMH Heart Fund

Launched in 2021, this fund provides a global emergency and support for all LVMH's 196,000 staff members. It will help employees suddenly faced with a serious personal situation by providing them with emergency financial aid as well as dedicated social and psychological support. Between its launch in 2021 and the end of 2022, the LVMH Heart Fund received more than 4,000 requests including 2,700 in 2022 across five continents.

Passing on the savoir-faire required to achieve excellence

Objectives

Ensure 22,000 recruitments in Métiers d'Excellence by 2024

Raise awareness of 3,000 middle school about Métiers d'Excellence through the « Excellent! » program by 2025

2022 results

8,000 recruitments Métiers d'Excellence

More than 1,600 middle school students took part of the « Excellent! » program

Main programs & initiatives

Safeguarding the Group's future

We for Me agreement

WE for ME is an agreement signed in 2021 by the Group's 75 Maisons intended to future-proof all of LVMH's essential skilled professions. This agreement involves initiatives such as « Excellent! » program to raise awareness about professions in the luxury goods industry in which 1,600 middle school students in France and Italy took part in 2022.

Welcoming all young people

A good start for INSIDE LVMH

With INSIDE LVMH, the Group welcomes all young people into the heart of the luxury goods industry and into its 75 Maisons. The program gives them an insight into all aspects of the various jobs and career path available in the Group. Participants can also obtain the INSIDE LVMH Certificate. Since it was launched in May 2021, 40,000 young people- 43 % of those enrolled in the program - across four cohorts have obtained the Certificate.

A record-breaking cohort in 2022

Métiers d'Excellence

Métiers d'Excellence aims to pass on the Group's unique savoir-faire, to hone people's skills and build on the 280 Professions of Excellence of LVMH. Since 2014, more than 2,000 apprentices have received training in design, craft and customer experience fields. In 2022, 91 % of them obtained their LVMH Certificate of Excellence and 75 % of them joined one of the Group's Maisons or one of their partners.

Recruiting and developing people with major potential

SPRING offers highly innovative career pathways

SPRING is the 1^{er} graduate program of the Group. It offers highly innovative and stimulating career pathways to young recruits who have major professional development potential. The first cohort started in 2022 comprised 14 recent graduates.

Achieving a greater societal impact at LVMH

2025 objectives

100 % of Maisons will give their staff the opportunity of taking part in a public-interest initiative

2022 results

Over 1 million people helped during the year (+35 % vs 2021)

842 (+46 % vs 2021) social partnerships formed by the Maisons with nonprofits and foundations acting in the public interest

Main programs & initiatives

Helping children exposed to situations that can threaten their safety, health and well-being

Louis Vuitton x UNICEF

Since 2016, Louis Vuitton made a commitment to working alongside UNICEF to collect funds for children exposed to conflict, disease, natural catastrophes and other situations that threaten their safety and well-being. It raises those funds by selling its exclusive Silver Lockit collections, which refreshes every year.

Achieving greater social impact

Tiffany Atrium

The initiative was launched in 2022 and offers opportunities to communities that have historically been underrepresented in this industry. The Maison is fulfilling its commitment to a fairer and more inclusive jewelry industry.

Committed to long-term actions

Dîner des Maisons engagées (Committed Companies Dinner)

LVMH has been actively involved in the fight against sickle cell anemia since 2011, providing support for teams at Robert Debré Hospital in Paris, one of the world's leading research centers for the disease. The « Dîner des Maisons engagées » is an annual fundraising dinner attended by numerous LVMH Maisons and their partners.

Helping people who have been marginalized in the job market

LVMH x Nos Quartiers ont des Talents

LVMH has a long-term partnership with this nonprofit organization whose remit is to help young graduates from disadvantaged urban areas find jobs and apprenticeship opportunities. In 2022, 197 executives mentored young people through the partnership, and since 2007 more than 850 young people have found a job with the help of an LVMH staff member.

OUR COMMITMENT TO CULTURE & CREATIVITY

Sharing our passion about art and creativity with a broad public throughout the world

Harnessing corporate philanthropy to advance culture and design

For more than 25 years, LVMH has pursued a corporate philanthropy policy that reflects the values of creativity and solidarity shared by all its Maisons, seamlessly aligning with their respective communication strategies and image.

Promoting heritage, art and design

The fire that tore through Notre-Dame cathedral in Paris in 2019 particularly resonated within LVMH, touching the artisanal and cultural core of a Group that believes in preserving and passing on its unique savoir faire from generation to generation. That is why its Chairman, Bernard Arnault, donated €200 million to help the renowned monument once again rise from the ashes. In 2022, Bernard Arnault continued to sustain the restoration work which will carry on for several years.

Since opening in 2014, the Louis Vuitton Foundation has captivated imaginations with the ground-breaking genius of its architect, Frank Gehry, and forged a place for itself as one of the foremost institutions in the global art scene, having already attracted more than nine million visitors from all around the world.

Over 200 000 visitors participated to the fifth edition of the Journées Particulières: A total of 93 places and at 57 Maisons in 15 countries opened their doors to the public with no admission fee in October 14, 15 and 16 2022.

Further information can be found in the 2022 Universel Registration Document – from pages 132 to 137.

Promoting health and education

The innovative and ambitious philanthropic efforts to promote art and culture also extends to humanitarian, medical and scientific causes. LVMH supports for example, the Fondation des Hôpitaux de Paris - Hôpitaux de France.

Fendi re-Enchants Villa Medici

Fendi and the French Academy in Rome with support from the Mobilier National unveiled their collaborative refurbishing of six historic reception rooms at Villa Medici.

Promoting and spreading culture

Every year since 2014, the Classe d'Excellence de Violoncelle de Gautier Capuçon has taken place in the Auditorium of the Louis Vuitton Foundation. This project, created and directed by Gautier Capuçon, is designed to promote six young and talented cellists from around the world. Selected by audition, the laureates meet each month for public work sessions and concerts.

Passionate about creativity

Louis Vuitton, unveils « 200 trunks, 200 visionaries » to celebrate its bicentenary anniversary

Paying tribute to Louis' innovative legacy, the exhibition offers a stage for these original and unique pieces created by 200 visionaries and friends of the Maison.

Loewe Foundation Craft Prize

Dahye Jeong, the prize winner, crafted a piece in the form of a basket from horsehair, using a 500-year-old hat-making technique thought to be a lost skill in Korea.

Ethics and integrity in the conduct of our business

The LVMH group is strongly committed to adopt and promote exemplary integrity and ethics in the conduct of its business and in its relations with all partners. Our codes and charters as well as the open communication and dialogue we promote both internally and externally are examples of how we live up to this commitment.

LVMH Code of Conduct

Common ethical foundation for the Group and its Maisons, gathering the rules that each employee must follow in the course of their daily activities.

Respecting & Supporting Human Rights

WOMEN'S EMPOWERMENT PRINCIPLES

LVMH respects and promotes the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and adheres to the principles of the United Nations Global Compact, as well as to the United Nations Guidelines on Women's Empowerment and respects the LGBTI standards of the United Nations. Within its sphere of influence, LVMH supports the values, freedoms and fundamental rights promoted in these texts.

«Privacy, Ethics and Compliance Governance»

A dedicated governance structure, communication and training

- The Privacy, Ethics & Compliance Department steers and coordinates the Group's compliance actions as regards the fight against corruption and money laundering, personal data protection, and respect of international sanctions and human rights
- Each Maison has its own organizational and governance structure adapted to its specificities.
- Regular communication is conducted internally on privacy, ethics and compliance topics. Appropriate training is provided to employees.

Alert Line LVMH

The Group's employees and stakeholders have access to the LVMH Alert Line, an online interface that provides a fully confidential and secure way of reporting in good faith violations of the laws, regulations, or principles of the LVMH Code of Conduct.
